

Amelia Bison, Counselor, Central Louisiana Intertribal Vocational Rehabilitation Program, moves into new office building

Submitted by Joe Kelley, Director of CLIVR

The new CLIVR office building is now operational and Amelia is busy at work serving her community! On October 10, 2008, the CLIVR office moved from the main Choctaw Apache Tribal Building to its own building located next door. The purpose of the move was to provide a more confidential environment to serve consumers.

We would like to say a great big thank you to the many volunteers who assisted Amelia and me in getting the building set up, wired, finished, and made accessible. There was a great deal of hard work that went into the building.

Thank you: Doug Laroux, Gary Procell, Ryan Procell, Hilton Ebarb, Wilbert Laroux, Sam Laroux, Pat Ebarb, Virgil Ezernack, John Procell, Tommy Bolton, Wade Laroux, and Tommy Sepulvado for your hard work!

In addition to the hard work, there was around $2,000.00, donated to purchase materials, fill dirt, and gravel. Financial contributions came from: Scott and Norman Procell, John and Carla Ebarb, Ronnie and Polly Brandon, Mark and Donna Martinez, Jeremy and Christin Leone. Thank you very much!

In addition to the above, we would like to thank businesses located in Natchitoches that donated materials or provided them at cost. These businesses were: Ken Starks Builders, Stine Lumber, Builders' Supply, and Elliot Electric.
